

Testimonial - BROTHER
October 22, 2005

To whom it may concern,

In early August this year, BROTHER visited Orange as part of a Western NSW tour. I had heard, and read, of their incredible passion, talent and energy for spreading the joy of musical creativity, but was astounded by the reality of our live involvement with the group.

Missionary zeal is probably the best description of the group's energy.

The musical ability and integrity of the group is of the highest calibre, as is their interest in working with communities, regardless of the level of existing activity or technical ability therein.

I would recommend Brother to any community interested in an energising, stimulating and affirming musical experience.
